

A wide-angle photograph of a modern restaurant interior. On the left, a long bar with a wooden countertop is lined with high-top wooden chairs that have orange upholstered seats and backs. Behind the bar, shelves are stocked with various bottles of liquor and glassware. The floor is a light-colored, polished material. In the center and right, there are several dining tables, some with orange tufted booth seating. The walls are light-colored, and a large window on the right is covered with sheer white curtains. A long, thin light fixture hangs from the ceiling. The overall atmosphere is warm and contemporary.

Mischa is a 120-seat New American restaurant located at 157 East 53rd Street, between 3rd Avenue and Lexington Avenue inside The Hugh. Helmed by James Beard-nominated Chef Alex Stupak, our menu showcases a variety of dishes that reflect a range of culinary interests and ideas, imbued with a sensibility indicative of our New York City home. The beverage menu mirrors this, with fresh takes on classic cocktails alongside a locally-sourced beer list and an international wine and spirits selection.

A private dining room is available for smaller gatherings and more intimate events.
